UK Education ambitions

Department for Business & Trade

To work long term to:

Enable systemic reform of innovative education systems that meet the demands of a global economy and ensure that no one is left behind.

Support economic development, growth and sustainability by building an appropriately skilled workforce through enhancing skills and education in key industrial areas.

Share world-class best practice in teaching and education policy, design and delivery enabling young people to maximise their potential for growth via a range of high-quality education routes.

Create mutually beneficial opportunities and partnerships which dynamically build the capability and capacity required for systemic long-term change.

Right skills for life

Skills and training must help gain and sustain high quality employment

Skills solutions have to be dynamic and targeted to the skills demanded

Skills deployment must be flexible in content, delivery modes and recognised

Skills training must be high impact and deliver real benefit to students, workers and businesses

ABE Global has been at the forefront of developing business education since it was founded, as the Association of Business Executives (ABE), in 1973.

ABE is a not-for-profit skills development specialist that provides internationally recognised qualifications, learning, credentials and quality assurance in the fields of business, entrepreneurship, leadership and Sustainability. ABE is regulated in the United Kingdom by the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (Ofqual) - Recognition Number RN522. ABE is an independent subsidiary of The Institute of Leadership (IoL) a charity founded in 1947 dedicated to unlocking leadership potential.

ABE's Green Finance related skills offer equips Vietnamese institutions and employers with practical capability to plan, justify, implement and evidence sustainability initiatives that increasingly influence investment decisions, supply-chain requirements, and access to international markets.

At the centre of this offer is the ABE Level 4 Certificate in Strategic Sustainability (RQF Level 4, aligned to Year 1 of a UK Bachelor's degree). It is designed to be practical and workplace-relevant, assessed by assignment (externally set by ABE) and applied to real organisational contexts. ABE also offers the Level 4 Award in Creating a Sustainable Working Environment, which develops learners' ability to evaluate the business case for sustainable workplaces, including the link between building health, productivity, compliance, accessibility and employee wellbeing.

To strengthen Green Finance readiness, ABE's Level 4 and Level 5 Business units develop complementary commercial and analytical competence, including finance for managers, budgeting and performance control, investment appraisal, risk awareness, and decision making. Together, these skills help learners translate ESG commitments into measurable plans, robust governance, operational improvements, and credible reporting.

Rob joined ABE in May 2024, bringing 15 years' experience across vocational qualifications and edtech.

He has held a range of roles within the UK awarding industry, including six years as an Accreditation Services Manager. In this capacity, Rob led the development of diverse qualification portfolios for universities, colleges and schools, as well as major UK employers, including the emergency services.

Since 2009, Rob has played a key role in launching, marketing and exporting UK curriculum as well as teaching and learning resources to institutions across South-East Asia and the Middle East. Having lived and worked in Malaysia and Thailand, he understands the realities of delivery on the ground and remains agile and responsive in supporting partners across ASEAN and beyond.

As Sales Director, APAC, Rob champions ABE's portfolio of regulated qualifications and draws on deep awarding expertise to help customers make confident curriculum choices. He also works closely with partners to shape tailored standards and specifications that meet local priorities, niche sector needs and employer expectations, combining commercial insight with practical creativity.

Think Ahead

The Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) is the world's largest international professional body for finance and accounting, founded in the United Kingdom in 1904. With over 556,000 students, 252,000 members, and more than 8,000 partner employers across 180 countries, ACCA is a global pioneer in setting and promoting international professional standards for accounting, auditing, and financial management.

In Vietnam, ACCA was the first international professional body in the finance and accounting sector, officially establishing its presence in 2001 with a representative office in Ho Chi Minh City as the country entered a period of deep global integration. From an initial 11 members, ACCA has grown to include more than 1,300 members and over 5,000 students nationwide. Throughout more than 20 years of presence, ACCA has actively contributed to Vietnam's economic integration by supporting the refinement of legal frameworks, the strategic development of the accounting and auditing industry, and the enhancement of state management capabilities in alignment with the evolving business environment and international integration requirements.

Specific skills offer (core modules and pathways)

- Certificate in Sustainability for Finance (CertSF) covering sustainability fundamentals, climate risk and disclosure frameworks, SDGs, ESG performance/metrics, and sustainability analytics; includes assessment and a digital badge.
- Professional Diploma in Sustainability (ProDipSust) providing a deeper pathway including 4 Certificates of Sustainability, regulatory frameworks and ethics; Sustainable strategic planning, decision-making and measurement; Sustainability reporting; Sustainability assurance.
- Specialist seminars / tailored programmes: ACCA is actively supporting the professional community through conferences, workshops, training content, framework building consultation around ESG and green finance, IFRS, risk management, and other technical topics relevant to BFSI sector and the Finance profession.

Ioannis Mantzaris is an experienced international education and qualifications professional, currently serving as International Learning and Insight Manager at the Chartered Insurance Institute (CII). In this role, he supports the development and delivery of CII's global market intelligence and opportunity development agenda, helping ensure international realities inform qualification pathways, partnerships, and product strategy.

Kenny Siu is the Regional Director of the Chartered Insurance Institute (CII), responsible for membership services and support across the Asia-Pacific region. He has extensive knowledge and experience spanning general insurance, reinsurance, and life insurance. Kenny has consistently contributed to building trust in the insurance and financial planning profession and to developing the professional community, in line with the CII mission of standards, professionalism, and trust.

The Chartered Insurance Institute (CII) is the leading professional body for the insurance and financial services sectors worldwide. It is committed to building public trust by upholding high professional standards.

With a global membership of over 122,000 professionals in more than 150 countries, CII establishes internationally recognised qualifications, learning programmes, and ethical frameworks. Through its qualifications, lifelong learning initiatives, and professional development offerings, CII supports individuals and organisations in delivering competent, ethical, and customer-focused financial services across the globe.

CII emphasises skills related to Green Finance to enhance professional capability, credibility, and trust at the intersection of finance, insurance, risk, and sustainability.

CII offers internationally recognised qualifications, modular learning, and continuing professional development (CPD) that highlight ethics, governance, professional judgement, and practical application. Its learning frameworks are designed to support both early-career professionals and experienced practitioners and can be tailored to various market contexts.

CII has extensive experience working with governments, regulators, employers, educational institutions, and international partners to create and adapt learning solutions. In Vietnam, CII recognises significant potential to assist in capacity building aligned with the country's 2030 Green Transition Plan. This includes areas such as climate risk management, green insurance, sustainable finance decision-making, and professional upskilling within the financial services ecosystem.

By collaborating with stakeholders in Vietnam, CII can help develop scalable skills pathways, professional recognition, and CPD frameworks that contribute to sustainable growth, innovation, and market confidence in green finance and insurance.

The Chartered Institute of Procurement & Supply (CIPS) is the world's largest professional body for procurement and supply, holding a Royal Charter since 1992. With over 80,000 members across 180 countries, CIPS sets global standards in ethics, sustainability, and procurement excellence.

Through education, certification, and Chartered Membership, CIPS empowers professionals to advance their careers and drive transformation in both private and public sectors. Its Procurement Excellence Programme, focuses on Environmental, Social & Governance (ESG) and green finance, and commitment to professional development position procurement as a strategic enabler of resilience, competitiveness, and sustainable growth worldwide. CIPS has an established presence across ASEAN, delivering professional development, certification, and procurement transformation programmes that strengthen capability and embed sustainability.

CIPS's value proposition for Viet Nam lies in our proven ability to embed green finance principles into procurement and supply chain practices. CIPS equips professionals to evaluate sustainability-linked investments, apply life-cycle costing, and integrate ESG criteria into supplier selection and contract management. These capabilities enable organisations to align with international sustainability goals, access green financing opportunities, and enhance competitiveness in Vietnam's dynamic economy.

CIPS's Procurement Excellence Programme provides a structured framework for benchmarking and transformation, helping both private and public sector organisations identify gaps and implement measurable improvements. Coupled with its internationally recognised certification and Chartered Membership pathways, CIPS ensure that professionals not only gain technical knowledge but also uphold the highest standards of integrity and leadership.

CIPS seeks to establish partnerships with Vietnamese government agencies, enterprises, and universities to co-create training and capability-building programmes. CIPS's goal is to support Viet Nam's transition to sustainable supply chains and position procurement as a strategic enabler of national competitiveness and ASEAN integration.

Abbie Cornish

Senior Manager - Relationships

Email: abbie.cornish@cisi.org

Tel: +44 (0) 7429 106 742

Web: <https://www.cisi.org/>

Abbie Cornish is Senior Manager, Relationships at the Chartered Institute for Securities & Investment (CISI), where she leads strategic partnerships and capacity-building initiatives across emerging and developing financial markets.

She works closely with regulators, government, financial institutions and education partners to strengthen professional standards and support the development of internationally recognised skills frameworks.

Her role focuses on embedding CISI qualifications, ethical standards and professional membership models within evolving financial ecosystems to support sustainable sector growth.

Abbie has been directly involved in Vietnam's International Financial Centre (IFC) development, contributing to UK-Vietnam collaboration initiatives and advising on regulatory capacity and human capital development.

Across her portfolio in Africa and Vietnam, Abbie aligns CISI's work with UK Government trade and skills priorities, supporting long-term institutional capability and professionalism.

The Chartered Institute for Securities & Investment (CISI) is a global professional body that sets the highest standards of professional excellence in a broad range of financial services disciplines. For over 30 years, it has been championing integrity, raising individual standards of knowledge, skills and behaviour in the UK and internationally, and working to enhance public trust and confidence in financial services ever since we emerged from the London Stock Exchange in 1992.

CISI's offers a best-in-class continuous personal development programme, networking, and events that enable flexible learning to enhance career progression. We also offer a breadth of choice of internationally recognised and respected highest-quality qualifications.

CISI integrates green finance and sustainability competencies across its professional qualifications, and continuing professional development (CPD) resources, supporting finance professionals to contribute effectively to the transition towards sustainable and resilient financial systems.

In Viet Nam, CISI has been engaged in the development of the country's International Financial Centre (IFC) agenda through UK Government linked initiatives. TheCityUK was commissioned by the FCDO to support the Government of Vietnam in shaping its IFC strategy and CISI was invited to contribute as the leading professional body representing the global financial services sector. Through this, CISI participated in Vietnam IFC working groups, providing specialist input on human capital development, professional standards frameworks and regulatory capacity building.

As part of this engagement, CISI joined a UK delegation to Vietnam in March 2023, engaging directly with senior policymakers, regulators and financial institutions on licensing models, skills ecosystems and professional certification pathways required to underpin a credible financial centre. We have since hosted multiple Vietnamese delegations in the UK to facilitate knowledge exchange on international best practice and skills development.

City St George's, University of London educates more than 27,000 students from over 170 countries across three campuses in Clerkenwell, Moorgate and Tooting. The University is now one of the largest higher education destinations for London students and one of the most significant suppliers of the health workforce in the capital.

City St George's is practice-led and impact-driven, partnering with governments, regulators and industry to translate policy and market change into practical capability. With expertise across business, law, health, communications, policy, and science and technology, it drives reform, strengthen institutions and accelerate talent pipelines.

Based in the heart of London's financial district, City St George's is an internationally recognised provider of professional education. Its programmes cover green taxonomies; ESG reporting and assurance; project appraisal and climate risk; emissions trading systems; and climate policy and regulation. City St George's proximity to banking, capital markets and fintech, with the Lord Mayor of London as Rector, keeps its education and research aligned with practice, regulatory priorities and employer demand.

In Vietnam, City St George's is committed to localisation through co-branding, case studies and content aligned with national regulation and market needs. To ensure our offer reflects local priorities, Matt Bungay (Head of City Apprenticeships Hub) joined the Green Finance TVET Vietnam scoping visit, consulting key stakeholders on skills gaps, delivery preferences and system readiness, which informed our priority training recommendations.

City St George's has several collaborations in Vietnam with LSE, University of London and BUU on research/policy/education on data economics & valuation, governance/security and talent; and with the British University Vietnam and CEFALT for student exchange, pathway programmes and international collaborative training.

Trang Dang holds a Master's degree in Banking and Finance from the Academy of Finance, Vietnam, and has nearly 30 years of professional experience across government, education, and international professional organisations. She has built a career spanning public institutions, education, and professional bodies, giving her a broad and practical perspective on career pathways in finance, accounting, and business.

She began her career working with key public institutions including the Ministry of Finance, Ministry of Labour, Invalids and Social Affairs, the State Treasury, and the Vietnam Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Before joining ICAEW in 2014 as Head of Vietnam, Trang led the Hanoi office of another international professional accountancy body, where she was appointed Acting Head of the Vietnam Office and received the CEO's Award for Accountability. At ICAEW, she played a leading role in establishing its Vietnam offices and has worked closely with employers, universities, and government bodies to support young people's education, skills development, and career readiness.

Trang actively advises the Ministry of Education and Training and is currently Vice Chair of the British Chamber of Commerce Vietnam's Education Working Group.

Founded in 1880, the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales (ICAEW) has a long history of serving the public interest and continues to work with governments, regulators and business leaders globally. And, as a world-leading improvement regulator, it supervises and monitors more than 11,000 firms, holding them, and all ICAEW members and students, to the highest standards of professional competency and conduct.

ICAEW promotes inclusivity, diversity and fairness and gives talented professionals the skills and values they need to build resilient businesses, economies and societies, while ensuring our planet's resources are managed sustainably. ICAEW is a founding member of Chartered Accountants Worldwide (CAW), a global family that connects over 1.8m chartered accountants and students in more than 190 countries. ICAEW's offer in Vietnam includes:

- ACA Qualification with Sustainability Integration
- CFAB – Certificate Level for Broad Reach in Vietnam: The Certificate in Finance, Accounting and Business (CFAB) forms the foundation of the ACA qualification and is widely adopted by top universities in Vietnam.
- Sustainability Accelerator Programme: delivers over 50 hours of flexible, bite-sized e-learning designed specifically for finance and accounting professionals, with free access for all ICAEW students and members.
- Strategic Engagement & Leadership Development: Beyond foundational skills, ICAEW also supports advanced leadership through specialised sustainability and ESG leadership programmes.
- Vietnam ESG Challenge: The first and the only contest for Vietnam University's students in ESG is co-organised annually by ICAEW and State Securities Commission of Vietnam, attracted thousands students participating.

Since 2016, ICAEW has partnered with more than 10 leading universities in Vietnam to integrate modules of the ACA and CFAB qualifications into undergraduate and postgraduate curricula.
